Marion, Alliance Crack Down on Gambling

While Mansfield's only bookie joint continued to operate openly less than two blocks from police headquarters and the mayor's office, police in two neighboring cities proved they had more respect for the law than for pressure from gamblers.

Gambling in Alliance was stopped cold by police order and in Marion local officers arrested 50 men for participating in games of chance in pool halls.

While Mansfield's major crap game rolled merrily on in quarters overlooking Central park and poker games flourished in backrooms around the city, law enforcement agencies of Marion and Alliance looked after the interests of the general public instead of the privilege of a little clique of gamblers and politicians.

Commercialized vice and gambling shut down suddenly in Alliance yesterday after high police officials learned that reporters had been investigating night life in the Stark county industrial and college city. Pictures taken inside gambling houses were published today.

Houses of prostitution were closed and slot machines were locked up shortly after Alliance Police Capt. A. O. Lower was confronted with the fact that eye witness and picture evidence had been gathered of rackets running wide open under the too-tolerant eye of the police department. Capt. Lower acted in the absence of Police Chief Harry L. Stark, who is vacationing in Florida.

In Marion, police staged a mass gambling raid on five poolrooms, arresting 50 men. Thirty-eight were charged with participating in games of chance and 12 charged with conducting games of chance. Police officers hit all five places at the same time, directed by radio by Chief William Marks. The close coordination of the movements of the five raiding parties was believed largely responsible for the element of complete surprise which made the raids a success. Eighteen policemen, two captains and Chief Marks took part in the raid.

Confiscated gambling devices included: open packs of playing cards, "fishbowls," punchboards, numbers slips, a "chuck-a-luck" cage, a miniature roulette wheel, a telegraph ticker of the type used at bookies, poker tables, chairs and pinball machines.

In Alliance, reporters had spent three days and nights witnessing frontier-town style activities in and out of gambling halls, speakeasies and horse booking joints. When shown the facts and pictures taken by reporters in the "joints," Capt. Lower was reported to have remarked, "If all this is going on, I'll certainly do something about it."

WEATHER
Cloudy and cold again tonight; fair, rising temperature.

Delay Search For Dead

Gutted Ruins Too Dangerous

GAMBIER—(UP)—Search for the bodies of six of nine students killed in a dormitory fire at Kenyon college was delayed today while wrecking crews pulled down the walls of the fire-gutted building.

The bodies of the six, missing and listed as officially dead, are believed to be in the debris. Three other students died of injuries suffered when they leaped from windows in the flaming, 122-year-old sandstone Old Kenyon dormitory early Sunday.

Dr. Gordon K. Chalmers, college president, said the walls were being pushed outward on the advice of experts who said there was danger they would topple on searchers.

A four-way investigation to determine the exact cause of the fire was opened, meanwhile, by the state, county, national board of underwriters and attorneys for the college.

Saved By His 'Date'

A Mansfield father, deeply grateful that his family was not marked for tragedy in the Kenyon college fire early Sunday morning, told today how his son, a resident of Middle Kenyon, escaped the holocaust.

Howard K. Davies, 40 Bahl avenue, and a graduate of Kenyon himself, said his son, Richand escaped the fire by only two hours.

The youth, Davies continued, attended the dance at the college Saturday night as the escort of Miss Margaret Dillon, a student nurse at General hospital. Shortly after 1 a. m. Sunday young Davies drove Miss Dillon back to Mansfield and then spent the rest of the night at his home here.

A room mate, John Humphryes of Chicago, related to Davies yesterday how the fire broke out directly across the hall from their room on the first floor. Humphryes, who managed to jump to the ground was uninjured.

Middle Kenyon, where the majority of the non-fraternity students were quartered, served as a chimney for the fire which then fanned out to the wings and finally destroyed the 122-year-old building.

"Richard lost all his clothing and personal effects in his room but that's a small loss compared to what might have happened," the father said. "Some of the boys had urged Richard to stay after the dance and to get Miss Dillon a room, but Miss Dillon had to return to the hospital so my son drove her back."

Seek Missing C-47, Nine Persons Aboard

SAN ANTONIO, TEX. — (AP) — The air force sought a missing C-47 plane in sparsely settled west Texas today. Nine persons were believed aboard the craft.

Air rescue officers from Biggs field, El Paso, Tex., said three planes and a helicopter took off from there last night to begin the search.

Fear Widow Killed

BUCYRUS—A 77-year-old widow was believed to have perished near here early today when flames ravaged the farm house in which she lived.

The woman, Mrs. Virdie Leitzy, lived alone in the two-story house on Route 30-N, according to Crawford county Sheriff Ralph Schreck. He stated that so far as he knew she was in the house at the time of the fire.

A search for the body was to begin this afternoon as soon as the charred ruins had cooled sufficiently, Sheriff Schreck said.

The fire was discovered by an unidentified passing motorists who told the sheriff the intense heat made it impossible for them to enter more than one room of the flaming building.

In addition to the house, the fire destroyed a smokehouse and garage on the property. Prompt work by neighbors prevented loss of the barn.

Schreck said no immediate estimate of the damage was available this morning.

There are no immediate survivors.

Oleo Taxing Fight Opens

WASHINGTON — (INS) — Hostilities over legislation to repeal the federal taxes on oleomargarine opens today before the House Agriculture committee.

Repeal advocates and their opponents from the dairy states will wage their battle during a five-day hearing. The major issue is whether Congress shall permit margarine to be colored yellow.

The bitter fight will be a renewal of that staged in the last Congress when a repeal bill was passed by the House but was blocked in the Senate.

Rep. Andresen (R) Minn., leader of the dairy state congressmen, conceded that an all-out fight against repeal will fail. He is sponsoring a measure which would repeal the federal taxes on colored and uncolored margarine but prohibit manufacturers from coloring their product yellow.

Red Version: U. S. Starving

MOSCOW — (INS) — Pravda today hailed new price cuts in food and other commodities and painted a dismal picture of life in the United States, where "Chaos is increasing and the population is starving."

The price adjustments, which became effective today, were ordered in a decress signed by Premier Stalin. A total of 45 items of food, clothing and other consumer goods are taken into account by the order.

The Pravda editorial cautioned Russian citizens that the price cuts must "inspire greater energy, and more socialist emulation for increased output."

Judge Takes Stand In Communist Trial

NEW YORK — (UP) — Senior Judge John C. Knox of the Southern District Federal Court was called today as a witness by 11 communist leaders in their challenge of the jury selection system.

Knox, appointed to the federal bench more than 30 years ago by President Woodrow Wilson, was characterized by the communists' attorneys as the "father of the rich men's jury system" which they allege discriminates against Negroes, women, Jews and workingmen.

March Lion Gets Frisky

Mercury Dips To 11 Above Here

The March lion was in his worst mood this morning as snow and high winds whipped Mansfield, but his temper cooled considerably by noon. The snow stopped and the sun appeared by 11 a. m.

The Mansfield area, which has more than an inch of snow, was reported the lowest official reading in Ohio this morning. It was 11 above at the airport at 1:30 a. m. By noon the mercury had climbed only to 15. Cleveland had nearly four inches of snow.

The weather bureau predicted, meanwhile, that the state was in for more windy and cold weather today and tonight.

Warmer weather was forecast for tomorrow and Thursday and continued mild for the remainder of the week. Temperatures will average about five degrees above normal, the weatherman said. Some rain or snow is expected tomorrow night or Thursday and again on Saturday.

Freezing weather hit parts of the southland today, threatening damage to the rich peach crop in Georgia and South Carolina. The chill extended over parts of Alabama, Mississippi, Tennessee and North Carolina.

Meanwhile, the northeastern section of the country started to dig out from yesterday's snowfall—the heaviest of the winter season in many areas. Falls up to 12 inches were reported in western Massachusetts and parts of Connecticut and measured up to 10 inches in New York City, and in sections of Rhode Island and inland Massachusetts.

'Squeeze Play' For John Doe

OK Funds For 1,500 Income Tax 'Sleuths'

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Funds to hire 1,500 new tax enforcing workers were approved today by the House appropriations committee.

The treasury had asked for 7,000, saying they were needed to avert the "threat of a weakening in taxpayer morale."

But the committee thought otherwise and said that to add 7,000 employes would be to approach the "point of diminishing returns" in tax collections.

At the same time, the committee called for a hike in postage rates, especially those on publications under second class permits.

The committee's action was in a $3,072,817,903 bill making annual direct appropriations to the treasury and the post office departments for the year starting next July 1.

In addition, the committee approved so-called permanent and unconstrollable appropriations for the treasury department amounting to an estimated $8,260,809,683. These include interest on the public debt and such items as the old-age and survivors' insurance fund and the employment trust fund administered by the treasury. Interest on the $251,600,000,000 national debt is estimated at $5,450,000,000.

The committee approved $220,500,000 of the Internal Revenue bureau's request for $232,768,000.

The committee approved in full the $1,560,000 budget of the bureau of Narcotics and granted $35,300,000 of the $35,950,000 requested by the Customs bureau and $3,054,000 of the $3,165,000 sought by the secret service. It did this after hearing reports of increased activity in counterfeiting, smuggling and the illicit drug market.

For stockpiling strategic and critical materials that would be needed in the event of war, the committee approved the full request of $775,000,000, including $525,000,000 in cash and $250,000,000 in contract authority.

It said the program of stockpiling "is moving forward at a quite satisfactory rate."

Widow, Baby Found Slain

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., — (INS) — The bodies of a pretty, 28-year-old Michigan widow and her three-year-old daughter were found buried in the basement of their Byron Center home today.

Police said the woman, Mrs. Delphine Downing, had been shot in the head. Detectives added the child, Ainelle, apparently had been strangled.

According to police the bodies were covered with "fresh" cement in separate graves.

Police arrested a man and woman who allegedly met Mrs. Downing through a "lonely hearts" club. Both had been living in Mrs. Downing's home for several weeks.

No Work In New Orleans!

Mardi Gras Festivities In Full Swing

NEW ORLEANS — (AP) — New Orleans quit work today and played "let's pretend."

It was Mardi Gras.

For glorious hours the problems of the rest of the world, and of the other 364 days, were solved simply by making believe they didn't exist.

By scores of thousands, the people stepped out of the normal humdrum lives into the characters of their dreams and fancy.

They appeared as acrobats, ballet dancers, clowns, devils, elves, fakirs, gypsies, highwaymen, Indians, jockeys, knights, lifeguards, minstrels, nymphs, orangutangs, pirates, queens, roustabouts, souses, tramps, Uncle Sam, vaqueros, witches, yeggs, and just plain zanies.

There would have been some beginning with "X" too, if anyone had known what a xinca or a xosa is.

The carnival season has been celebrated since Jan. 6 with balls, and for the past ten days with parades. But today only, Mardi Gras, Shrove Tuesday, the day before Lent, the whole city joins in a general holiday of public masking and frivolity.

Visitors, estimated roughly at 100,000 joined the uncounted residents who went out to have fun, or to watch others having it.

Monarch of the celebration—Rex, king of carnival and lord of misrule—was Lester F. Alexander, industrialist and boat builder.

His queen was a beautiful, petite debutante with blue eyes and light brown hair, Dolly Ann Souchon, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Edmond Souchon.

Traditional high point of the revelry was the passage of Rex's parade of mule-drawn, painted canvas floats through the streets at midday.

Climax of Rex's ride was the champagne toast to his queen as she sat among her maids in a bunting-draped stand at the swank Boston club on Canal street.

Congress In Bitter Battle

Filibuster Starts Row

WASHINGTON — (INS) — Embittered southern senators moved today to challenge Vice-President Barkley's plan to crack down with unprecedented severity on their filibustering tactics.

Sen. Russell (D) Ga., leader of the southern fight against legislation gagging debate, declared that he will appeal any ruling by Barkley that forces a Dixie senator to stop talking and take his seat.

The bitter anti-filibuster battle, in which a show-down has been ordered by President Truman at the risk of a legislative stalemate, entered its second day accompanied by these developments.

1. Majority Leader Lucas (D) Ill., announced that beginning today he will stretch Senate sessions at least until 6 p. m. and perhaps later.

2. The veteran and usually-reserved Sen. George (D) Ga., who holds key finance and foreign relations committee posts, hurled defiance at his party by declaring that the fight may "have an influence on the politics of America."

3. Lucas said he will file a cloture or gag petition on Thursday to test the present ineffectual cloture rule. This puts a big decision up to Barkley because previous presiding officers have ruled that debate cannot be gagged on a motion to call up a bill.

Southern bitterness appeared early in the fight when Barkley announced that he will enforce Senate rules to the letter in the hope of shortening the filibuster which threatens to be the longest in legislative history.

French Army Purges Reds

PARIS — (INS) — High government sources disclosed today that the French cabinet has decided on an immediate purge of communist elements in the army.

The source indicated that three or four high-ranking army officers may soon be arrested. An army major and a captain were taken into custody yesterday on charges of espionage.

It was learned that the ministry of the interior is currently holding a suspect whom the newspaper France-Soir describes as a former high-ranking army officer, who is a commander in the Legion of Honor.

France-Soir said the suspect was not a communist, but is suspected of collusion with Maj. Louis Teulery and Capt. Azema, who were arrested yesterday. Teulery, accused of giving military information to a Soviet satellite, reportedly has confessed.

$200,000 Blaze Razes Theater

LIMA — (UP) — An early morning fire today burned out the Sigma theater on Lima's public square, leaving damage estimated at $200,000. No one was injured.

Firemen said a firewall in the theater prevented the blaze from spreading to nearby stores. Fire Chief Walter Hydaker said the fire possibly started in a davenport in a restroom.

Woodland Developer Dies at 81

James M. Dickson Succumbs at Home

James M. Dickson, 81, well-known Mansfielder who developed the Woodland residential area from farm land, died at his home, 540 Stewart lane, yesterday afternoon following a lingering illness.

Mr. Dickson was born in Mansfield Nov. 27, 1867, and had lived here all his life.

He was a graduate of Mansfield high school, Phillips school at Andover, Mass., and Yale university. He was graduated from Yale in 1894.

Mr. Dickson, who was interested in real estate, developed the Woodland area from the Stewart, Finney, and Whipp farms.

He held a controlling interest in the Stuhldreher Flower company and was a director of the Farmers Savings and Trust company.

Mr. Dickson was a member of the First Presbyterian church. He was interested in music and gardens.

Surviving are his sister, Miss Lillian R. Dickson, of Mansfield, and a number of nieces and nephews.

Rev. David N. Roller, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, will conduct funeral services at the Finefrock funeral home at 3:30 p. m. Thursday. Burial will be in Mansfield cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home until the time of services.

The Evergreens restaurant and the Third Street market will be closed Thursday in commemoration of Mr. Dickson. The business block in which the restaurant and market are located is the property of the Dickson family. The market will remain open Wednesday, the day it usually closes.

Evans Prefers Mansfielder, Bares Joke

Sam Evans, president of the Evans Pipe and Steel company, Mansfield, came out of "hiding" today to reveal that the nationwide report of his engagement to Film Actress Marilyn Maxwell was all for a laugh.

"In fact," Evans said, "I am to be married to a Mansfield girl in the very near future and my fiancee knew all about my sending four telegrams to Miss Maxwell and meeting her for an interview."

The actress announced she was husband-hunting and, when she came to Mansfield to appear at the Madison theater with the Gene Krupa show, Evans got in touch with her. Louella Parsons, Hollywood commentator, broadcast Sunday night that Evans and Miss Maxwell were engaged.

Yesterday, all efforts to reach Evans were futile. Today he volunteered his explanation.

'Bomber' Turns Promoter

Charles, Walcott Sign For Bout

MIAMI BEACH, Fla.—(AP) Joe Louis today formally resigned as heavyweight boxing champion of the world.

He requested and received permission from the National Boxing association to sponsor a fight between Ezzard Charles and Jersey Joe Walcott to determine the new world's champion.

The new champion will be crowned at a 15-round fight to be held in Chicago in June.

Louis' submitted his formal resignation by letter to NBA Commissioner Abe J. Greene and Flamen B. Adae, president of NBA.

The letter of resignation was presented by Harry Mendel, the Brown Bomber's publicity agent. Louis himself was not present.

Louis notified the NBA that he, Arthur M. Wirtz and James D. Norris had formed the International Boxing club which will maintain offices in New York and Chicago. It will stage the fights to determine the new heavyweight champ.

SIGN FOR BOUT

Louis said he had obtained the signatures of Walcott and Charles for the heavyweight crown match and that both boxers had agreed to defend their title within 90 days after the June match with either Lee Savold or Gus Lesnevich.

Before his 25th successful defense of his title against Jersey Joe Walcott in Yankee stadium last June 25, the champion said that he was through, and the fight with Walcott was his last.

But on Sept. 17 he said he "might" fight again. The Twentieth Century Sporting club, which has acted as promoter for all of Louis' fights, has proceeded on the assumption he would defend his title again in Yankee stadium this summer.

Louis has been appearing in a series of exhibitions all over the country.

"I am certain you know how sorry I must be to let the championship go this way," Louis said in his letter to Greene.

"I have held it for a long time and I won it in the ring. I expected to lose it the same way I won it. This is the way champions should be made.

"However, things have developed so that I think I ought to stick to the decision to retire that I announced quite time ago."

Proposes Conversion of OSR Into Pen

Director Urges Major Revisions

Institution Here Would House 2,000

Conversion of the Mansfield reformatory into an intermediate security penitentiary for criminals of all ages with a peak capacity of 2,000 was recommended today by Welfare Director John H. Lamneck.

This was included in a sweeping reorganization of the state's penal system as proposed by Lamneck which would include construction of a new $6,500,000 men's reformatory at the Grafton prison farm.

The Mansfield reformatory never receives first offenders in the 16-30 age group.

The State Welfare department has submitted a budget for the next two years of $62,844,546 to State Finance Director Herbert D. Defenbacher, the Associated Press reported from Columbus.

The proposed budget represents an increase of $19,285,138, or 44.27 per cent, over appropriations of $43,559,408 for 1947 and 1948.

Besides asking the new reformatory, Lamneck listed the following proposed additions and betterments to existing institutions and construction of new buildings:

(1) A $1,000,000 receiving hospital at Portsmouth.

(2) A $1,000,000 receiving hospital at Cincinnati.

(3) A new women's unit of 250 beds at Lima State hospital for the criminal insane.

(4) A new unit at Lima for psychopathic offenders.

(5) A new unit for defective delinquents.

All three Lima units will cost a total of $6,500,000.

Cut to Minimum

Director Lamneck said budget requests by superintendents of the state's penal and mental institutions totaled $85,000,000. He and Corrections Chief Arthur L. Glattke consider $45,000,000 "as an absolute minimum."

Lamneck made these recommendations for the mental hygiene division.

(1) A separate and increased budget "amounting to several millions of dollars a year." The amount was not specified. It was needed, Lamneck said, to employ "needed additional professional and other help."

(2) Legislation to provide funds for study and prevention of mental illness.

"We will recommend," said Lamneck, "enactment of a law to provide that persons who are financially able to pay for treatment in our mental institutions shall be charged the actual cost of maintenance instead of the present maximum of $5.50 a week."

Sums over the present maximum would be put into a rotary fund for research, education and prevention.

(3) Additions and betterments to existing mental institutions other than Lima state hospital totaling $23,500,000 (M).

For the corrections division:

(1) Legislation providing a central receiving center to which all offenders sentenced under the state's criminal laws would be sent for observation, classification and segregation.

(2) Legislation to authorize the receiving center to assign an offender to an appropriate institution.

(3) Retention of the Ohio penitentiary as receiving center and as a maximum security prison to house long-term and other criminals who are beyond rehabilitation, with a maximum capacity of 2,400 That is the prison's normal capacity. It currently houses 4,100.

(4) Retention of London Prison farm for that class of prisoners who can be restrained with a minimum of security; capacity 2,500. Present population is 1,700.

(5) Development of an "adequate parole system."

(6) Additions and betterments to existing penal institutions of $3,500,000.

Ohio Cancer Drive To Start April 1

COLUMBUS — (INS) — Ohio today was assigned six per cent of the national cancer drive goal of $14,500,000.

Campaign directors from 62 of the state's 82 counties met in the American Cancer society meeting at Columbus yesterday to set $850,000 as the year's collection aim. The campaign starts April 1.

Harry Murphy, national campaign director said the chief task of the organization is to get people to have themselves examined regularly for the disease.

70 Per Cent of Heart Funds To Be Used In This Area

"What happens to the money I contribute to the American Heart association? How much of it is spent in Mansfield?" have been common questions confronting Dr. Robert W. Wolford, chairman of the Richland county drive to raise $5,000 for the Central Ohio Heart association.

Dr. Wolford explained that 70 per cent of this money stays in the Central Ohio fund and the remainder is sent to the national organization for research.

"That part of the money which stays in this part of Ohio is available to doctors to treat heart diseases when the sufferer is not financially able to pay for such treatment," he said.

The local heart campaign ended today and the shiny, red hearts throughout Mansfield will be collected Tuesday and the donations will be sent to national headquarters.

Any contributions sent to the Richland County Heart association, 55 Sturges avenue, Mansfield, or placed in the red hearts found in Mansfield stores will help to fight heart disease, the number 1 killer in this area, Dr. Wolford said.

Jury to Visit Murder Scene

ATHENS — (INS) — The special Athens county grand jury probing the murder of Miss Eleanor Gifford was expected today to visit the cottage where the 52-year-old Episcopal church field worker was bludgeoned to death with a claw hammer.

Assistant Attorney General T. Vincent Martin said yesterday he might ask the jury to visit the scene of the crime.

Martin was assigned to the case when the original grand jury requested Gov. Lausche to put the investigation into the hands of Attorney General Herbert Duffy.

Class A Picture Muddled

The Class A basketball picture is evidently as much of a muddle to Findlay coach Carl Bachman as it is to most other observers.

We had a chance to talk with Bachman between games of the county tournament which he refereed here, and brought up the subject of the strength of his team. Findlay was Class A champs last year, you know.

"As far as winning again," he said, "I'll be disappointed if we don't and surprised if we do." Bachman said he hadn't seen a team that he actually feared, but had seen a lot which would be plenty dangerous. "And be sure to include Mansfield," he added. Tyger Coach Vern Hoffman, in whose office the bull session was being held, just covered his eyes.

STINE

Bachman has not seen Hamilton Public, rated generally as the state's best, in action. He has watched Middletown and declared them to be below par.

Bachman opined that the reason for lack of a standout in the state could be one of two things. Either the class of basketball is off this year or is enough improved generally to make the picture muddled.

Hoffman chose the latter. "Every team we played has looked good," he joked.

Excuse us if we do a little bragging this week. We have two readers and can prove it. Both of them wrote and told us about using a faulty memory instead of records in last Sunday's column.

It seems we remembered Lexington's Rollin Ford winning everything but the bleachers in the county track meet last year and mentioned him as having been the high point man. Actually he finished second to Ontario's Richie Hunt. Ford won the hundred, high jump, shot and ran anchor man on a winning relay team for 19½ points. Hunt had two firsts and two seconds for 20

Bellville and Ontario may have rough sledding in the district at Bucyrus, but they can thank their lucky stars they are not playing at Westerville.

A total of 37 teams will be in the wild and wooly affair, to be played in the Otterbein college gym, making it the largest tourney in the state. To make it tougher the teams from this area will be competing against Franklin county schools which played their county tournament on the same floor. Then there's the matter of knowing only one day ahead whom you play.

Browns Kick Out Cardinals From Sportsman's Park

ST. LOUIS — (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals and Browns who have shared sportsman's park peacefully for 28 years may have reached a parting.

The American League Browns, who own the time-worn baseball property at Grand and Dodier, served notice on the national league Cardinals yesterday to vacate April 1.

As a result the Cards, who opened spring training in St. Petersburg, Fla., today, may find themselves without a park in which to play their home games.

The order to vacate came in the form of a legal notice published by the Dodier Realty and Investment Company, which is controlled by the Browns.

The notice said the Cardinals' lease on the park became invalid when the corporate name of the organization was changed recently from National Sports, Inc., to St. Louis National Baseball Club, Inc. This change, the American League Club claims, was made without its consent.

The lease was signed in 1937 and had two more years to run

Redmen Rate As Top Team In Tourney

The end of the basketball road for either Madison or Bucyrus high schools will come tonight as they inaugurate the Class A sectional tournament at Senior high school gym. Game time is 8 p. m.

By all records Bucyrus is a top-heavy favorite but Madison is an unpredictable crew. At times the Rams have played great ball and looked capable of upsetting any applecart.

Bucyrus, on the other hand, has won 14 straight ball games and figure to have little trouble here tonight. The Redmen doubled the score on Madison, 66-33, in a previous meeting on the Senior high floor. Bucyrus was seeded No. 1 in the tournament.

NO STARTERS YET

Madison coach Blaine Dowler this morning was undecided on just which five he would trust with starting assignments. He indicated he would choose the group just before game-time from among the seven boys who have started previous games.

That would mean two guards from among Ed Chelski, Larry Secrist, and Russ Glenn and a forward and center from among Joe Distl, "Dutch" Bader, Jim Brightbill and Gene Riblet. Chelski and Distl are almost a cinch to get two of the berths.

MOVED UP

Rounding out the Madison squad eligible for tournament play are: Dave Davies, Gene Hughes, Constance, Gene Yohn and Marty Keipp. Keipp, six-foot sophomore forward, was brought up from the reserve team to complete the 12-man tournament roster. He led the fine second team in scoring through the season.

Bucyrus is expected to use a starting lineup composed of Bill Kibler and Don Widman at forwards, Paul Katterhenrich at center, and Bob Dutcher and Jack Temple at guards.

ONLY TOURNEY BYE

Tonight's winner will go against Shelby, holder of the only tournament bye at 7:30 p. m. Friday in a semi-final game. Tomorrow's contests pit Crestline against Ashland at 7:30 and Senior high against Galion. Winners of these games will meet Friday. Finals are scheduled Saturday.

Winner of the final game goes to the Sandusky district and the loser to Findlay

Doors tonight are to open at 7 p. m. and plenty of tickets will be available according to tournament co-manager Fred Staub. Bucyrus asked for more than its original supply but sale of the ducats at Madison has lagged below expectations.

Students Strike For Cage Coach

University officials fired Fortunato because they said he does not hold a master's degree. Fortunato came to upper Iowa last year and his team had a season's record of 13 wins and six losses

Ewbank Fills Browns Post

CLEVELAND — (INS) — One of two vacancies on the Cleveland Browns' coaching staff was filled today with the signing of Wilbur "Web" Ewbank, head coach at Washington university of St. Louis.

It is believed that Ewbank will fill the post left vacant by Bill Edwards, former tackle coach who accepted a head coaching position at Vanderbilt.

The All-America conference champions still are searching for another assistant coach to fill the spot left open by John Brickles, who accepted a coaching job at Miami University of Ohio.

Ewbank compiled a fine two-year record at Washington, U., his 1948 team winning nine out of 10 games. In 1945 he assisted Paul Brown, head coach of the Browns, on the coaching staff at Great Lakes naval station

Buck Cagers Finish Home Sked With Win

COLUMBUS — (UP) — Ohio State's in-and-out basketball team wound up its home season in a burst of glory last night with a thumping 70-51 win over Michigan State.

It was a game of "farewells" for both teams. For Ohio, it was their last home appearance; for Michigan State, it was Ben Vay Alstyne's last appearance as coach.

Ohio State coach Tippy Dye cleared the bench, giving all of his 14 basketeers a chance, but Dick Schnittker and Bob Raidiger proved the aces, both getting 19 points.

NEVER BEHIND

The Buckeyes never were behind and had doubled the score, 34-17, by halftime. As the game wore on, the bucks held leads of 30 points on occasion.

The visitors top performers were guards Jim Snodgrass and Bob Robbins, with 15 and 12 points respectively.

It was Ohio State's 13th win in 20 starts and Michigans 12th loss against nine victories.

Ohio State will conclude the season against DePaul in Chicago Saturday.

Winner of the New London-Wallbridge game will go against top-seeded North Baltimore in a 7:30 p.m. quarter-final game Thursday. Milton will meet Gibsonburg in the second game. Friday the Troy-Gygnet winner meets Green Springs and the Monroeville-Vermillion victory takes on Lakeside.

Semi-finals and finals will be played next week.

Four Teams Beaten In Gold Medal Meet

The field was cut to 22 teams as four games last night opened competition in the first annual Mansfield Gold Medal basketball tournament at Senior high school.

Another quartet of games is scheduled Thursday at 6:45 p. m. on the Johnny Appleseed junior high school floor. After that session, the tourney will not resume action until next Monday at Appleseed.

Ontario Veterans, Bellville Athletic club, Lucas Veterans, and Richland Beverage copped opening games. The latter team was the only Mansfield city league team to survive.

WIN EASY GAME

The Beverage quintet eliminated the Shelby Merchants easily, 48 to 28, after leading by quarters, 10 to 6, 24 to 9, and 34 to 14. Rollie Ford led the winners with 15 points.

Ontario opened the program by topping a surprising Independent team, 51 to 38. The game see-sawed until the Independents ran out of gas in the fourth quarter when they were ahead, 35 to 32. The Independents led at the quarter, 12 to 11, but fell behind at the half, 26 to 24. At the start of the final quarter the score read, 32-32. Chet Hellinger of Ontario had 16 points.

RALLY IN FOURTH

Rallying in the last half, Bellville knocked off American Veterans Committee, 41 to 33. AVC led at the intermission points, 11 to 3, 19 to 12, and 27 to 23. P. Weaver of Bellville had 24 points.

In the closest game of the night, Lucas edged First Methodist, 27 to 25. Lucas led by periods, 8 to 6, 14 to 10, and 21 to 20.

Former Buckeye Coach Takes Job At Ohio Today

COLUMBUS — (INS) — Caroll C. Widdoes, former Ohio State assistant football coach, assumes the helm at Ohio University today and is faced with a stiff schedule in his first season.

The Ohio University Bobcats have five mid-American conference and four non-conference tilts on their 1949 schedule.

Opening day finds the Bobcats pitted against West Virginia at Athens. The University of Buffalo has been added to the roster for the first time, for a two-year home and home series. Other newcomers on the Bobcat schedule are Kent State and Marshall.

The schedule:

Sept. 27—West Virginia at Ohio; Oct. 1—Ohio at Western Michigan; Oct. 8—Kent State at Ohio; Oct. 15—Ohio at Western Reserve; Oct. 22—Ohio at Miami; Oct. 29—Ohio at Marshall; Nov. 5—Cincinnati at Ohio; Nov. 12—Butler at Ohio; Nov. 19—Buffalo at Athens.

Loop Second Spot at Stake

Second place will be the principal prize for Senior church league basketball teams in their regular session tonight on the YMCA court.

St. Matthew's currently has a half-game edge on the spot but three other teams have an opportunity to move in or tie-in games tonight.

St. Matthew's meets First Methodist, one of the close-in teams at 7 p. m. while the other two, First Christian and Lucas Lutheran, battle at 8. Evangelical United Brethren and Ontario Community church close out the program.

Just a Parade

MIAMI — (INS) — Citation, Calument Farms' wonder horse, makes his 1949 bow to the public today at Hialeah, but the second biggest money winner of all time is merely going to parade before turf fans.

Class B Cage Tourney On In Bucyrus

BUCYRUS — While Richland county's representatives, Bellville and Ontario, have one more day to prepare, Mt. Cory and Sycamore will get the Class B district tournament under way here tonight.

The two teams are to meet at 8 p. m. in only game on the card. Mt. Cory, Hancock county champion with a 13-2 record is heavily favored over Sycamore which was Wyandot county runnerup with only 14-10.

ONTARIO PLAYS

Ontario begins district play tomorrow against Hardin county king Forest while New Riegel goes against Ridgeway at 8:45. The first game is an upper bracket game, the second in the lower division.

No. 1 battle of the tournament is set for 8:45 p. m. Thursday when Bellville goes against the undefeated Salem team. Salem was seeded first with 23 straight victories and the winner of this game will undoubtedly be rated tourney favorite.

Top Ashland County Rivals May Play 5th

ASHLAND — Savannah and Perrysville, Ashland county rivals who have met four times previously this year, looked a good bet today to clash for the fifth time here Friday night in the Class B sectional tournament.

Pairings for the sectional, made yesterday in the offices of tournament manager George Donges, gave Perrysville a bye and the right to meet the winner of the Doylestown - Savannah game of Thursday night.

The seven-team tournament opens tomorrow night at the Ashland college gym with Shreve playing Rittman at 7:15 p. m. and Sterling taking on Loudonville at 8:30. Doylestown and Savanah play the only game Thursday while semi-finals will be Friday and finals Saturday.

Savannah was given the top-seeded berth of a 21-1 record. It has beaten Perrysville three times in four starts, the latest being in a March of Dimes benefit game last week.

Both the winner and the runner-up of the tournament advance to the district at Kent State which opens next Tuesday.

Doors for the sectional games will be open an hour and 15 minutes before the first game each night. Tickets will be available at the door. Officials are: Johnson of Orrville and Kister of Shreve.

Two Teams Drop From Pro Loop

COLUMBUS — (UP) — The Ohio-Indiana baseball league will operate in 1949 as a six-club league, president Frank M. Colley announced today.

Colley said Zanesville and Richmond had dropped out of the circuit for the coming season because of inability to make working agreements with major league clubs.

Ez Charles Wins Split Over Joey

By CLAUDE WOLFF

CINCINNATI—(AP)—Ezzard Charles outpointed Joe Maxim in a 15-round split decision boxing bout here last night, but it's doubtful if he added anything to his prestige as the outstanding challenger for Joe Louis's heavyweight title.

The slender, hard punching Cincinnati Negro had to come from behind to cop the nod of two of the three judges. And when the decision was announced, many of the 14,062 fans who paid a gross of $72,818 to see the match, yelled their disapproval to the highest part of the new Cincinnati Garden.

ON THE CARDS

Judges George Behle and Joe Blink saw Charles as the winner by 73-69 and 70-65 points respectively. Judge Charles Conver had it even at 70-70. The associated press scorecard had eight rounds for Charles, five for Maxim and two even.

Charles, weighing 181¾ pounds—the heaviest he has ever scaled—showed two glaring weaknesses. He was a sucker for a left hook and he could not get away from Maxim's left jab.

Ebony Ezz gambled on a win against the fancy stepping Clevelander, who weighed 184. He had little to gain, because after his knockout victory over Joe Baksi in Madison Square Garden several months ago Louis, himself, had rated him as just about the foremost contender.

All he did gainfully, it seemed in the press box, was to add to his bank account.

Some of the sports writers gave their unofficial decision to Maxim, who was always busy, jabbing, hooking and falling in while Charles carried the bout to him.

STARTS GOING

Beginning with the fifth round, Joey began turning on the steam and in fifth he completely outboxed Charles. Meanwhile, the rapier-like left opened an old cut over Charles left eye, bloodied his nose, and set him back on his heels.

Maxim carried his attack through the sixth, seventh and eighth, then slowed down.

Charles, however, a great guy to keep trying, then began to catch up with the fast moving Maxim and in the last three rounds moved ahead.

"I shouldn't have coasted those last three rounds," Maxim moaned as he held a compress to a cut over his left eye. "I coasted through the last three rounds on the advice of my handlers. I think I won. It was a helluva fight."

Seven Tribesmen Out of Wigwam

TUCSON, Ariz. — (AP) — Manager Lou Boudreau called his Cleveland Indians out for their first training drill today, but there were a number of faces missing from the wigwam.

Pitcher Bob Lemon hasn't put in an appearance, but sent word he would stay in Long Beach, Calif., until president Bill Veeck contacts him with a more satisfactory offer.

Pitcher Gene Bearden got in last night, but gave word he expects to go back to his home in Long Beach unless he and Veeck can work out their differences by telephone.

Second baseman Joe Gordon, who with his wife and two children has been here for a week, is expected to reach an agreement on salary shortly.

Catcher Hank Ruszkowski and infielder Johnny Berardino are still at their homes and still far from ready to accept their 1949 contracts.

Infielder Roberto Avila arrived late and is expected to sign his contract today.

Seven other players also were missing, but four of these were accounted for and all have signed their contracts. Satchel Paige, the negro hurler, is taking health baths in Arkansas. Artie Wilson, new negro infielder, still is playing winter ball in Cuba. Pitcher Don Black is recuperating in Florida, and Russ Christopher has been excused from early drills.

The three players unaccounted for were outfielder Thurman Tucker, infielder Al Rosen and rookie pitcher Tom Hafey.

After today's light workout, Boudreau promised to step up the pace considerably tomorrow and Thursday.

A welcoming group including cowboys and indians in full regalia greeted the players as their train pulled into the station yesterday morning.

Although major league rules forbid workouts before March 1, many of the tribesmen got in uniform to pose for photographers.

Mansfield F-H Boxers Win Four of Six Fights

Esbenshade Winner In Semi-Final Bout

By CHARLEY STINE

A crowd of nearly 600 people jammed the Colby and Earick showrooms last night to watch three knockouts, a TKO and some of the most spirited scrapping seen in a long time in a Friendly House boxing card.

Friendly House boys lost only two of the six fights in which they participated and one of those was a technical knockout of Bruce Heinberger, who hurt his wrist landing a first round punch.

The scheduled five-round main event lasted only half that time as Willie Eson of Cleveland kayoed Jack Seckinger of Marion in 1:30 of the third heat.

MATTER OF TIME

Actually the fight was only a matter of time as Eson had his man hanging on after the first ten seconds of the fight. The two-fisted comet had the Marion fighter down for a nine-count in the second round. Then in the third Seckinger rallied and had Eson backed in a corner but let him get away. A few seconds later Eson cornered Seckinger and downed him with a flurry of rights and lefts.

Don Esbenshade, the outstanding fighter of the recent Friendly House tournament, decisioned Dick Butler, Cleveland, in the semi-final. Esbenshade looked good as he carried the fight to his opponent all the way.

Jess Boiner, a heavyweight with fine form but weary arms, won a decision over Red Mathias of Galion in the bout between the big fellows.

Boiner had Mathias bouncing all over the ring in the first round and roughed him up good in the second but in the third the fight slowed down and Boiner failed to have enough left to throw the deciding punch.

SHORTEST BATTLE

Shortest fight of the night was a 45-second kayo by Silent Ogletree, the Cleveland mute. The fast little 135-pounder stormed all over Carroll Combs of Marion to batter him to the canvas twice in less than a minute.

Friendly House Athletic Director Mike Wentz plans to bring Ogletree back for a March 28 card. The show will again be held in the Colby and Earick showrooms, and will probably be the last before the opening of the new Friendly House.

The battle royal boys put on their usual entertaining scrap In the ring all at the same time were Bud Kent, Bob Pittenger Del Wright, Joe Morganstern, Cecil Thompson and John McQuillen.

Tom Anderson, 113 (Ashland) knocked out Bruce Heinberger, 113, (FH) in 1 30 of the third round.
Jim Reynolds, 134 (Ashland) won by a technical knockout over Ralph Grier 137 (FH) in second round
Bill Eccles, 151 (FH) decisioned Charles Farina, 162, (Galion)
Howard Carney, 128 (FH) won a split decision from Dick James, 127 (Marion).
Billy Eberhardt, 135 (FH) decisioned Tom McGinty, 135 (Cleveland)
Silent Ogletree, 135 (Cleveland) knocked out Carroll Combs, 135, (Marion) 45 seconds of the first round.
Jess Boiner, 210 (Cleveland) decisioned Red Mathias 194 (Galion).
Don Esbenshade, 155 (FH) decisioned Dick Butler, 154 (Cleveland)
Willie Eson 147 (Cleveland) kayoed Jack Seckinger, 146 (Marion) in 1 30 of third

Illinois Cagers Clinch Share Of Big Nine Basketball Title

CHICAGO—(AP)—Illinois, increasing its scoring average to a record-breaking 66.3 points per game, copped at least a share of the Big Nine basketball title last night by smashing Indiana at Champaign, 91 to 68.

The largest winning tally of the conference season helped set an all-time high. The combined 159 points surpassed the former conference mark of 152 in Illinois' 98 to 54 win over Purdue a year ago.

With Dike Eddleman leading the Illini gang-scoring system 23 points, Coach Harry Combes' outfit posted its 10th Big Nine win in 11 starts. A victory over Michigan at Ann Arbor next Monday would cinch the championship. A loss probably would force Illinois to share the crown with Minnesota, which takes a 9-2 record into its last game against Wisconsin at Madison Saturday.

Illinois' 91 points against the Hoosiers boosted its total in 11 games to 730 for a 66 3 average. The Illini Whiz Kids of 1943 piled up a record 755 in 12 games. Thus, Illinois needs only 26 points against Michigan to establish a new team pace.

In the only other conference game last night, Wisconsin gamed a 4-7 record by trouncing Iowa at Madison 70 to 47 as Center Don Rehfeldt pumped in 34 points for a new Badger fieldhouse record The old mark was 31 by Johnny Kotz in 1942.

Oklahoma Ags Listed No. 2 In AP Poling

NEW YORK — (AP) — Oklahoma A. and M. became today the main challenger of potent Kentucky for the season's college basketball honors.

On the strength of their second victory of the year over St. Louis, the Aggies climbed into the No. 2 spot in the weekly associated press poll—just 56 points back of the leading Wildcats.

As an example of how close that is, six more first place votes for A. and M. and none for Kentucky would have put the Aggies on top. The poll did not take into consideration the Aggies' 35-31 loss to Bradley last night.

ROOT OUT BILLIKENS

In commandeering the runner-up position, the Oklahomans rooted out the St. Louis Billikens, whom they tripped, 40-37, last Saturday after winning an earlier game, 29-27, in an overtime.

The Billikens had never been lower than second and had led the standings through the early weeks of the poll.

Kentucky and Oklahoma A. and M. may get a chance to meet in one of the post-season tournaments.

The Wildcats and St. Louis received bids yesterday to play in the national invitation tournament at Madison Square Garden march 12-14-17-19.

Illinois and Minnesota, powers of the Big Nine, maintained their respective fourth and fifth places while western Kentucky moved ahead of Tulane into No 6 in the only other change in the top ten.

Tulane, beaten by Vanderbilt last week for its third loss, dropped to seventh, followed by San Francisco, Bowling Green and Bradley in order. Ohio State is 19th.

Wirick, Sunnucks Repeat On N-J Tournament Team

Only two regular season selections repeated on the News-Journal Richland county all-tournament team announced today.

Lexington guard Duane Wirick and Ontario's Howard Sunnucks were the repeaters. Sunnucks was placed at forward along with Jim Fry of Bellville. Bill Smith of Bellville was paired with Wirick while Lucas' Bob Zody won first team honors at center.

Named to the second team was Paul Fisher, Lexington, and Jack Stephenson, Lucas at forward; Bill Lyon, Bellville, center; and Don Harvey, Lucas, and Bill Balliett, Bellville, at guards.

BELLVILLE PLACES FOUR

Bellville, which won the county championship with a 59-41 victory over Ontario Saturday night, placed four of its first five on two teams. Lucas had three, Lexington two, and Ontario one.

Five of the ten will be back in action next year. Sunnucks, Stephenson, Balliett and Fisher are juniors and Zody is a sophomore Only players who were in more than one game were considered.

Fisher was the tournament's leading scorer with 44 points. Stephenson was second with 41 and Zody third with 38.

Mikan Has Big Lead In Scoring

NEW YORK — (AP) — George Mikan, towering center of the Minneapolis Lakers, enjoys a comfortable lead in the basketball Bali association of America's scoring parade today.

Mikan has netted 1,425 points, 120 more than his nearest rival, Joe Fulks of the Philadelphia Warriors has scored. Mikan's average of 28.5 points per game also is high as are his 487 field goals and 451 free shots.

Building a Better Railroad

IT takes modern equipment and methods to provide safe, dependable transportation for passengers and freight. During 1948 the Erie continued its modernization program by investing almost $12,000,000 in new equipment and improvements. We propose to spend $29,000,000 more in 1949 to make our service even better.

The fact that wages, fuel and other material prices have doubled since 1939, while freight rates have increased only 52% and passenger fares only 25%, makes these expenditures all the more significant.

This points out that greater improvements and efficiency lead to lower costs, not only for those using the railroads but for everybody! Such progress is possible only when profits are adequate—because profits and progress go hand in hand.

Amateur Fighter Forfeits 'Gloves' After Pro Match

COLUMBUS — (AP) — A 19-year-old Columbus heavyweight is out of the Golden Gloves boxing tournament in Chicago after he admitted participating in a professional fight.

Embrel Davidson, who last week was voted the Chicago tourney's "sportsmanship" trophy, was quoted in the Columbus dispatch as saying he received $35 for a four-round fight here Nov. 17.

Davidson was discharged from the army last September for dependency reasons. Yesterday, the fighter told the Dispatch:

"I know I made a mistake. It wasn't right, and I'm making a clean breast of it. We needed money, that's why I fought that one fight. My stepfather died in June, my mother isn't able to work, and I have two little sisters and a younger brother. I came home to help them live."

The fighter, who was to have received his sportsmanship award next Friday, returned a Golden Gloves medal and jacket he received for fighting here. He would have fought in the semi-finals of the national tournament.

College Court Pairings Set

MT. VERNON — (UP) — The Ohio conference college basketball tournament at Whittenberg field house was set today.

In the pairings drawn here yesterday, Akron will meet Ohio Wesleyan and Kent State will tangle with Mt. Union in the first round March 11. The playoff will be held the following day with the winners meeting for the title and the losers for the consolation.

Mt. Union replaced Muskingum on the card after the latter school's faculty athletic committee voted against sending a team to the tourney. The committee declined the bid because it felt the games would extend the basketball season longer than justifiable.

Edison Meets York Quintet

WESTERVILLE — Morrow county's champion Edison Tigers will meet York, Union county runnerup in the second game of the Class B district tournament at 7 tonight in the Otterbein college gym. Pairings for the 36 team tournament were made last night.

Four other games are set tonight. Madison Rural meeting Pickerington at 6 p. m., Jacksontown taking on Hyatts and Newark St. Francis meeting Morrow in games after the Edison-York tilt.

Marengo, the Morrow county runner-up, swings into action in the last of a six-game program which opens at 4 p. m. Marengo meets Groveport at 9.

Should Edison win tonight it will meet the winner of Madison Rural-Pickerington at 6 p. m. Thursday. Frederickton meet Columbus St. Mary's at 8 that night. Mt. Gilead opens tourney play Friday at 6 against Marion St. Mary's.

Cleveland Barons Play Tough Tilts

(By International News Service)

As the American Hockey League teams round the turn tonight into the final month of play, this week's games may well be decisive ones in the western division race for the Calder cup playoffs.

Cleveland plays host to the rugged Pittsburgh Hornets tonight and returns the visit tomorrow night in Pittsburgh. The Barons and the Hornets are tied for second place.

Named Captain

COLUMBUS — (INS) — Capital university cagers have named high scoring Fred Radloff of Wauseon as their captain for the 1949-1950 season.

Death Takes Jack's Helper

NEW YORK — (AP) — Perry Grogan, the man credited with pushing Jack Dempsey back into the ring in his fight against Luis Firpo on Sept. 14, 1923, is retiring today from the Western Union Telegraph company.

Firpo smashed Dempsey through the ropes in the first round of that memorable fight. As Dempsey came down into the working press section, Grogan leaped to his feet, caught Dempsey and shoved him back into the ring. Dempsey knocked Firpo out in the next round.

Grogan has worked for Western Union for over 56 years. He began as a messenger in 1893 when he was 11 years old.

NOW LISTEN, OFFICER!—Sometimes you can change a traffic officer's mind if you growl right back at him. It happened to Officer Ed Pryal (left) when the "occupant" of this truck parked in a "no stopping" zone in San Francisco, Cal., wouldn't let him release the brake so truck could be towed away. Neither Pryal nor tow car operator cared to insist, so the illegal parker saved a tow charge.

Walter Lippmann Writes:

Britain In Sight of Trade Balance

During the hearings on the Economic Cooperation administration, which were conducted by Senator Connally and Representative Bloom, some, who know the score, were left with the feeling that it was all much too easy. Neither Congress nor the country got from the hearings anything like a true picture of the real difficulties of the recovery program. The committees invited, and in consequence they got, a presentation in which the grave problems that European statesmen are facing were pleasantly obscured by enthusiastic salesmanship and unimpeachable sentiments about the cold war.

No wonder, then, that Mr. Mayhew's comments about British recovery were so completely misunderstood, so completely that the President was asked at his press conference whether Marshall aid to Britain need continue in view of Mr. Mayhew's statement "that Britain has now virtually completed its economic recovery."

What Mr. Mayhew meant to say was that during the last six months of 1948 the United Kingdom exported almost as many goods and services as she imported. In that sense Britain is within sight of "balancing" her foreign trade.

But though the achievement is remarkable, reflecting the highest credit upon the British people, it is wholly misleading to make it appear that Britain has "recovered" and has reached the objective of the Marshall plan.

For when the "balance" that Mr. Mayhew was talking about is examined, it shows that Britain still has a deficit with the dollar area (roughly speaking with North America) of about $1,200,000,000 a year. That is to say Britain is still buying much more from the dollar area than she can pay for; the deficit is covered by the E. C. A. subsidy.

However, to those parts of the world where dollars are not the currency, Britain is exporting about 300 million pounds worth of goods and services more than she imports. The 300 million pound surplus, if it could be converted into dollars at four dollars to the pound, would "balance" her deficit with North America. But the crux of the problem is that the 300 million pounds cannot in fact be converted into the 1,200 million dollars, that theoretically they are worth.

The real situation is, therefore, that Britain is getting from the dollar area much more than she can pay for in dollars. And at the same time the non-dollar area is getting much more from Britain than it can pay for in sterling.

If one could forget about money and think only of goods, it could be said, broadly speaking, that a large part of what America is exporting free to Britain to other countries.

Thus the other Marshall Plan countries are getting the equivalent of 480 million dollars of British goods under the European payments scheme. Britain does not receive goods in return. In part what she gets is a reduction of her old debts. In part she is running a little Marshall Plan of her own.

No one should delude himself into thinking that the success of E. C. A. is assured, or that at the end of it, the goal of the the Marshall Plan will have been reached.

Calls Exceed Steel Supply

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Although ingot production continues at or near 100 per cent capacity, overall steel requirements remain in excess of supply, the magazine Steel said today.

The trade journal also noted that generally consumers still regard steel supplies as "money in the bank."

"Even though current operations do not require all the steel some fabricators are receiving, cancellations of mill orders are few," said Steel. "The supply situation is one of contrast. While some consumers must limit their operations to their supply, others have an excess of steel. However, the latter find no difficulty in disposing of it."

According to the magazine there is no immediate forecast of the mills dispending with their quota system in stell distribution. However, there is a disposition of some producers who had withdrawn completely or to a great extent from districts because of freight disadvantages to sound out old customers as to future needs.

"With a growing pressure for lower production costs and with some of the urgency off demand for steel, fabricators are showing increased resistance to premium priced tonnage," the publication added. "In a few instances the resistance to high prices has extended even to the regular - price steel market."

Steelmaking operations added February to its recent months in which it was at or above capacity. The others were October, November and January.

State Wildlife Unification Bill Up for Senate Approval Today

Hint Oleo Bill Ready For Tuesday

Proposed FEPC Delayed One Week

COLUMBUS — (INS) — The bill to unify all state conservation activities into one new state department was called up for a vote in the Ohio Senate today.

And majority leader Margaret Mahoney (D - Cleveland) said that a second of the major measures approved by Senate committees—the bill to permit the manufacture and sale of colored oleomargarine—"probably" would be placed on tomorrow's calendar.

The 142-page conservation measure would set up an entirely new "Department of Natural Resources" under a $10,000-a-year director appointed by the governor for a six-year term. It would have seven divisions—lands, water, forestry, wildlife, geological survey, parks, and beach erosion.

The principal battle was expected to center on the so-called "Metzenbaum amendment" inserted by the Senate Conservation committee. The amendment would deprive the wildlife division of the autonomy it would have possessed under the original draft of the bill and give the director the same control over it that he would have over the other six divisions.

Meanwhile, hopes for a House vote this week on the bill to establish a fair employment practices commission vanished with the establishment of a calendar committee in the House. The committee, whose makeup is the same as that of the Rules committee, was voted last night after bitter debate.

Immediately after it was established, House leaders who control the committee told newsmen that the FEPC bill would not be brought to a vote this week.

They gave as their reason a desire to permit both Governor Lausche and House members time to study the amendments in the reprinted bill, said to be a Lausche measure.

The Calendar committee was established by voice vote, despite demands from the floor for a rollcall. However, there was no doubt that the resolution carried overwhelmingly.

Another County Wants Ex-Convict

Logan county made its bid today for custody of Dwight Cherry 51, an ex-convict, who has confessed at least 38 school burglaries in Ohio and Indiana.

Authorities at Zanesville where Cherry is in jail said a Logan county deputy sheriff was en route with a warrant for the arrest of Cherry.

Sheriff E. P. Long, of Richland county, said Cherry has confessed burglarizing the Lexington school of $150 on Jan. 10. Richland authorities, however, hold little hope of getting Cherry since he is wanted in so many other communities.

Five Violators Pay Court $75

Five traffic violators paid a total of $75 and costs in fines and bond forfeitures in Municipal Judge H. H. Schettler's court yesterday.

Forfeiting a $25 bond each for speeding were Mary Smith, Cleveland, and William D. Oldham, Columbus. Carl M. Griffith, Mansfield, R. D. 5, was fined $10 and costs on a similar charge.

Paul Lee, 168 Wayne street, paid $10 and costs for failure to yield the right-of-way, and John R. Porter, 1188 Park avenue west was fined $5 and costs for crossing the yellow line.

A true and interesting fact is that unless it had proven value and merit, no amount of advertising could possibly have built up the reputation that FATHER JOHN'S MEDICINE has earned and maintained since 1855 for the relief of coughs due to colds by its soothing effect on the throat.

Warns of Smog Threat

MEXICO CITY — (UP) — An American scientist warned today that poisonous industrial smog in Mexico City might kill many persons and devastate Mexico's scenic beauty unless it is controlled soon.

Dr. Clarence A. Mills of Cleveland said the smoky clouds that blanket Mexico City nearly every morning are "very much like" the poisonous smog that killed 20 persons and made 5,000 more ill last year at Donora, Pa.

"Unless Mexican industry takes steps to correct the menace of air pollution, Mills declared, "the Donora smog disaster might be repeated here some day because of the continued growth of Mexico City's factories and plants."

He said industrial smog is directly responsible for respiratory diseases which cause thousands of deaths every year throughout the world.

"In Chicago alone nearly 700 persons annually die from pneumonia, tuberculosis or lung cancer caused by air pollution from industrial plants," Mills said.

Wins Proposal From Floor of Legislature

BOISE, IDA. — (UP) — Rep. Edwin Snow, R., Adams, Ida., arose in the Idaho House of Representatives and asked "if the lady from Ada would yield to a question."

Pretty, red-haired Rep. Edith Miller, R., Ada, Ida., replied: "I'll yield, but only to the question. And I won't guarantee the answer."

"I was wondering if the lady from Ada would consent to marry me," Snow asked.

The House roared with laughter as Miss Miller disappeared, blushing furiously.

She returned a few minutes later and announced that "on a point of personal privilege, I accept Mr. Snow's proposal."

Miss Miller is 32. Snow is 35.

The details of their legislative romance was entered duly in the records of the House following the proposal yesterday.

Telescope Peers Billion Light Years Into Space

MOUNT PALOMAR, CALIF. — (UP) — The 200-inch Hale telescope atop this 6100-foot rugged mountain has picked up faint stars, or cosmic "dust," a distance of what may be one billion light years from earth, it was disclosed today.

One billion light years, measured in miles, would place the objects about 6,000,000,000,000,000,000 miles from earth—the farthest penetration into space that a telescope has ever pierced. The estimate is based on the fact that light travels about six trillion miles in one year.

The deep penetration into the universe was made by the big mirror during an observation by Dr. Edwin P. Hubble, astronomer and research director of the Mount Wilson-Palomar Observatory, which is operated by the California Institute of Technology.

It was one of numerous observations made by California Tech astronomers who "sneaked in" a look-see during the present testing period of the "big eye."

Dr. Hubble obtained an excellent photograph. The big mirror was focused on a star in the constellation Leo which is part of the milky way. The area is one of a dozen or more selected spots which the astronomers hope to study with the Hale telescope.

The time of the observation —was about midnight and the constellation was about overhead. Dr. Hubble, however, was not particularly interested in the star, which itself is many million light years away. He sought to observe beyond the star.

The photograph, developed the next day, clearly showed the faint objects in the background. They were not larger than a pin point, and were fuzzy. Dr. Hubble took this writer into his darkroom and showed him the picture.

He had spent most of the night making observations and gave up only when the moon rose. The light from the moon spoils photographic observations of the stars.

He explained there was no way of definitely placing the distance at one billion light years, but that he believed the objects were at the end of the full power of the big mirror—which is one billion light years. He said the photograph will be compared with photographs taken of the same spot by the 10-inch telescope cameras on Mount Wilson, about 100 miles north of here.

The photograph, a negative, showed the star in the constellation Leo. It was probably the size of a pin head, perhaps larger. In the background, the faint objects could be easily seen.

Dr. Hubble said that the principal significance of the photograph was the fact that the big telescope—even though it is undergoing tests—already has proved its power.

"It is already doing what we expected," he said, "and we expect it to do even more."

Firm Wants Note Voided

The Bellville Foundries, Inc., of Bellville, yesterday filed an action in common pleas court to declare void a $20,000 promissory note issued on May 16, 1947 by Clarence Kozak, formerly president of the company.

Named defendants, besides Kozak, are his wife, Cecilia, Bellville, and his sister, Norma Marie Kozak, of Maple Heights, O.

The petition, filed by Attorney Robert L. Ross, contends that no consideration passed and the note has no legal efficacy. The plaintiff also asked that a mortgage deed on the Bellville company's site, issued with the note be declared null and void.

R. E. Colcott, doing business as the Ed. Colcott Sales at Bucyrus, filed an action here seeking a judgment of $455 for merchandise.

Colcott said the merchandise was received by Sherman Fisher, former owner of the Dicks Service station, in Plymouth. He asks that the present owners, Richard Walker and Roger Dick be appointed trustees for the benefit of creditors of the station.

Politics, God In Harmony, Pastor Says

District Brotherhood Addressed In Shelby

SHELBY — "Politics and religion have no quarrel because God ordained government," declared Rev. J. H. Thomas, Hayesville, at the meeting of the Willard district Evangelical United Brethern Brotherhood meeting here Sunday night in the local E. U. B. church.

The speaker, who has served 22 years as president of the Ohio Township Trustees and Clerks association, declared the church should take an active part in affairs of government. He made a strong plea for local government, saying "Keep your government at home as a contralized government means corruption."

Rev. G. L. Fleming, pastor of Sandusky's Columbus Avenue E. U. B. church, discussed the needs of his church for more funds to add to the size of the church building. He asked for greater support from the conference for the growing needs of the Sandusky church which has been a Brotherhood project.

The local church's men's chorus offered two vocal numbers under the direction of Sam Vansdale. A quartet from the Tiro church sang a number. The Willard Brotherhood won the attendance award.

Crowds Laugh At Clowns' Antics

Mansfield circus fans, including hundreds of kiddes, laughed and applauded yesterday as the Patterson Bros. indoor circus began a two-day run at the Coliseum.

Performances of the stars of the "sawdust ring" will end today with shows at 3:30 and 8 p. m. Doors will be open one hour in advance of the first act.

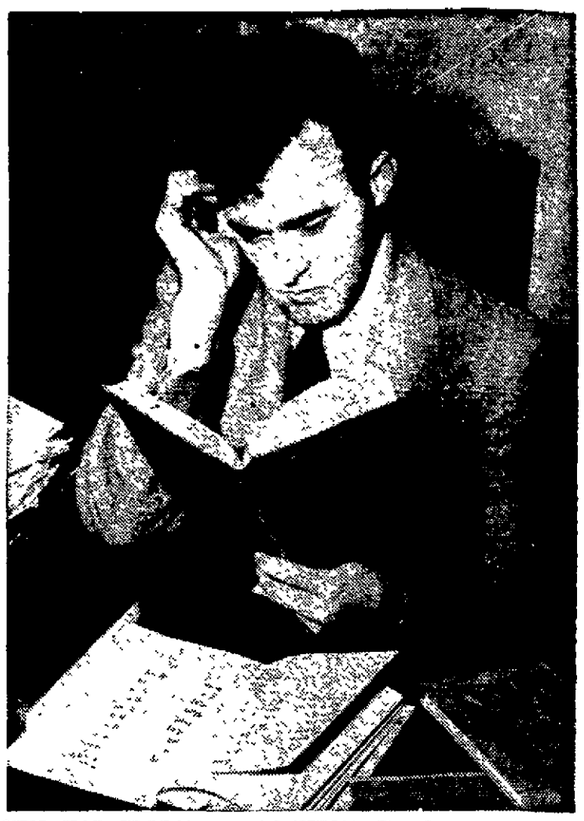
The circus, sponsored by the Westinghouse UEW local 711, features everything from a cowboy to clowns and imported European aerialists.

Pardon Board Meets

Hearing on 150 institutional cases at the Mansfield reformatory was started today as members of the Ohio Pardon and Parole commission convened at the institution. OSR officials said they expect the board's session to be completed Thursday.

Bull Kills Farmer

MOUNT VERNON —(AP)— Edward Gierhart, 76-year-old farmer, died today in Mercy hospital of injuries suffered when he was gored by a bull while doing chores on his farm near Centerburg, Knox county.



OHIO HAS GLOBAL RECOGNITION—The Buckeye state is known in the four corners of the world as a place to live, work and play. As a result letters written in the native tongues of many countries arrive at the Columbus address of the Ohio Development and Publicity commission, the state's official promotion agency. Here William Scull, a staff member of the commission, ponders over a letter from south of the border, and he appears to be having much trouble translating it.

Modest Demand Sparks Small Gains In Stock Mart Today

NEW YORK —(AP)— Modest demand gently lifted the stock market today.

Gains ranged from fractions to more than a point. The advance was managed with little or no pick-up in trading volume.

The railroad group, which was under severe pressure in the decline of late last month, made a better than average showing. Rubber, air line, and chemical stocks also did well.

Among the gainers were Santa Fe, Atlantic Coast Line, Illinois Central, Nickel Plate, Firestone, Goodrich, Transcontinental and Western Air, American Airlines and U. S. Steel.

2 Fined In City Court

Driving suspensions and fines of $15 and costs were assessed against two men in municipal court today when they entered pleas of guilty to charges of unsafe operation of a motor vehicle.

A 60-day driving suspension was given to James H. Graves, Mansfield R. F. D. 1, when he pleaded guilty to a charge of unsafe operation on Mansfield streets.

Judge H. H. Schettler explained when he fined Graves that it was his third traffic violation in a year.

Henry Henke, Mansfield, R. D. 3, received a 30-day driving suspension when he pleaded guilty to charges of unsafe operation filed by the state highway patrol.

He was arrested on Feb. 28 by patrolmen after his automobile went into a ditch off U.S. Route 42 near Mansfield.

A fine of $10 and costs was assessed against Charles Aughinbaugh, Mansfield, R. D. 4, on a state highway patrol charge of improper starting of a motor vehicle.

Aughinbaugh's car was involved in an accident with another car driven by John Wolfe, of Mansfield, on Feb. 26 near Mansfield on Route 42, patrolmen said.

Set Tentative Hearing Date

Tentative date for the municipal court hearing of the case of Thomas H. Stickland, 18, of 549 Johns avenue, today was set for Thursday as police for the second consecutive day were unable to secure his release from General hospital.

The youth has been a patient at the hospital since Feb. 19 when he was shot while attempting to flee from police officers after he and a companion were caught allegedly tampering with a parked automobile.

Hospital attaches said today his condition was good, but they could not say when he would be released.

Driver Accused After Car Crashes Into Truck, House

Four persons escaped injury last night in city traffic accidents on slippery streets.

Anton Gross, 42, of 235 Schmitt court, was ordered to appear in traffic court at 1:30 p. m. Wednesday on unsafe operation charges growing out of an accident at 6:45 p. m. yesterday at East First steret and Franklin avenue.

Police said Gross's car collided with a Commercial Motor Freight truck driven by Donald G. McMeekin, 32, of Columbus, and then struck the house of Mrs. R. B. Snider, 73 East First street. The house is at the northeast corner of the intersection. Gross told police his car skidded into the truck. Considerable damage was caused to the house, police said.

An accident in front of 36 West Fourth street, between Walnut and Mulberry streets, was reported to police at 8:15 p. m. yesterday. Police said a car driven by John R. Grega, 20, of 578 Grant street, stopped behind a taxi which was discharging passengers, and that the Grega car was struck from behind by a car driven by Mrs. Dorothy Myers, 192 Vale avenue. Mrs. Myers told officers she was unable to stop because of the slippery pavement.

The Mansfield state highway patrol post also reportd three accidents which occurred yesterday in the area. No injuries were involved.

Patrolmen said slippery roads caused an accident between Mansfield and Galion, another near Mifflin, and the third mishap north of Ashland on U.S. Route 42.

Officers said today that all main roads in the Mansfield area were clear with occasional slippery spots, but that roads were reported drifted and slippery in the Cleveland area.

THE Tragedy OF A COW NAMED "Innocent"

Let the farmer tell it. He was there.

"Well, you see I had this cow. She was good and fat and fresh. She gave about twenty pounds of milk a day.

"But she ate a lot. So I tried an experiment.

"Each day I fed her a little less until I was down to practically nothing at all. Seemed like a swell idea.

"But heck—just as I got her used to it, the critter died."

Some people would take more and more of the profits away from business.

Business lives on profits. Profits create jobs, provide job security, build plants, buy machinery.

Yes, there are those who would take still more of the profits away from business—some who would take all.

If you want to see business die and our whole economy with it, just follow the farmer's scheme.

Or, don't you think that way?

Anyhow, February may be credited with a feeble effort to "go out like a lion."

One observer concludes that Experience isn't such a great teacher. "Look how many pupils have to take the course over," he points out.

A Mansfield professional man, recently back from St. Petersburg, Fla., reports that the neat haircut he got in that city just before returning home cost him 60 cents—also noting that the barbers down there seemed to be kept quite busy.

Suggest Changes In School Buildings

SCHOOL BUILDINGS of the future should provide larger rooms for smaller classes, in the opinion of a commission of educators and architects which has just completed a two-year survey designed to reveal present facilities and probable needs.

"The immediate need for new school buildings is overwhelming", the commission finds, taking into account the high birth rate during the war and post-war years.

Also classed as urgent is replacement of unsafe and outdated structures that have been kept in use through nearly twenty years of depression and war.

Suggestions as to location is that buildings for elementary grades should be within three-quarters of a mile walking distance, or a bus ride no longer than 30 minutes. For secondary pupils it is advised that pupils shouldn't have to walk more than two miles or travel more than an hour each way.

Adjustment to a new price level is recommended by the commission, which says: "Waste and extravagance must be avoided but attempts to cut costs too severely would be as foolish as buying a suit of shoddy material a size too small."

Strangely enough, the commission also warns against overbuilding, calling attention to an expected decline in birth rates, with probable reduction in school enrollments by 1965.

Mansfield's program of school construction and modernization seems as nearly in accord with the idea of looking toward future requirements as is possible at this time, and the wisdom of having taken early steps in this direction is obvious.

Propose Licensing Practical Nurses

SHORTAGE of registered nurses over the past few years has brought into prominence the value of the practical nurse who can take over in so-called subacute home cases after the R.N. has finished her task. Obviously, the practical nurse has frequently been able to release her more highly trained colleague from cases which no longer require professional service but cannot be left to family care.

Now a bill is to be offered in the state senate which would give recognition to these practical nurses—of whom there are 45 in Richland county—by setting up a licensing procedure.

It appears that such a move would also protect the public, since at present virtually anybody can represent herself as a practical nurse whether or not she has proper qualifications and training.

The Practical Nurse Association of Ohio and the Richland chapter is backing the licensing plan as outlined in Senate Bill 95. The public might do well to interest itself in the passage of this measure.

Fire Prevention Is Constant Task

SUCH A FIRE as that which destroyed the 122-year-old dormitory building at Kenyon college Sunday again serves to direct attention to the requirement for constant vigilance in guarding against fire hazards, not only for the protection of property but also to prevent deaths and injuries of persons who must be dependent on others for their safety.

If, as believed by firemen, the blaze was started by sparks from an open fireplace igniting a rug, an element of carelessness enters into the situation, as any open fireplace is recognized as a hazard unless properly safeguarded.

After a fire has occurred the only good that can come of it is in the warning it sounds against repetition through similar causes, but the cost in lives, injuries and property loss is a high price to pay for the neglect that is so frequently the cause of such disasters.

Origin of 'Great Idea' Revealed

AN INVENTION conceived thirty years ago, but never produced until the dire necessities of war required it, was the tank landing craft which made the Normandy invasion possible.

Winston Churchill, in the new volume of his war memoirs, now being published serially, reveals that he dreamed up this floating tank as far back as 1917, as part of a project for seizing the islands of Borkum and Sylt in the North Sea, west of the German province of Schleswig-Holstein.

Premier David Lloyd George, always open to new ideas, was impressed by it; but it must have been buried in the archives of the British admiralty. At all events nothing was done about it until Churchill came to power in the recent war, and was in a position to see that his ideas were put to use.

Each American chews annually a dollar's worth of gum, according to commerce department estimates. No figure is given for the damage to clothing, or the wear and tear on tempers caused by discarded gum, left where it will do the least good.

According to steel officials the shortage is "relative and temporary," in which Harry Wade sees similarity to a Hollywood in-law.

Washington Calling

Military Pressure Felt

By MARQUIS CHILDS

EVER SINCE V-J day, a kind of cold war has come on inside the government here in Washington between military and civilian. Over control and direction of rearmanent and over occupation policy in Germany and Japan the skirmishes have been hottest.

This is, of course, putting it too simply. But nevertheless the general lines of the contest are fairly clear, and it is something new in American life.

The controversy over confirmation of Mon C. Wallgren, President Truman's good friend, to be chairman of the national security resources board does not at first glance fit into the pattern of this contest. It is, however, as a skirmish in the war that certain of the President's closest advisers see the Wallgren row.

The first chairman of the newly created security resources board was Arthur M. Hill, who resigned on Dec. 15. Hill, head of the Greyhound Bus company, was considered by some in the White House to be under the domination of Secretary of Defense James Forrestal.

Forrestal had proposed that Hill's office, as head of the new board, should be near his in the Pentagon. It was suspected that Forestal wanted to make the NGRB with its far-reaching assignment looking to the integration of industry and natural resources for national defense, into a side show of the military.

Therefore when Hill resigned, after 15 months as chairman, the determination was to get a man for the job who would be independent of both military and big business control. As part of the process of freeing the board from the dominating influence of the Forrestal-Pentagon axis, the board's offices had been moved to the old state department building next door to the White House.

* * *

He's a "Good Friend."

The President himself selected his friend, Wallgren, for the $14,000 chairmanship. They had served together on the Truman war investigating committee and, as Wallgren put it, his great and good friend was drafting him to do the same kind of searching inquiry in the present period that is neither peace nor war.

But, as Wallgren showed on the witness stand, he knows little about the organization of American industry either in war or in peace. In fact, it was difficult to discover what the former governor from the state of Washington did know.

Democratic Senators expressing nervousness over Wallgren's qualifications and his performance in the all-important job are being reassured. The bureau of the budget, so the White House line goes, will exercise close supervision over the work of the security resources board. As chairman, Wallgren will be able to lean heavily on the able and efficiently staffed budget bureau.

While it may work out like that, this does not seem to me to be the best way to build up the civilian side of the government so that in the long tradition of this country civilians can continue to fix major policies.

The alternative is not necessary a pleasant politician with an undistinguished record in a succession of public offices.

If in the present troubled state of the world, the civilian side of the government is to maintain its proper constitutional authority, it must show up in performance a lot better than in the Wallgren episode.

Too often since the end of the war civilian authority has defaulted, leaving a vacuum that was necessarily filled by the military. Occupied Germany is a good example. No war was ever won with one side in apologetic retreat.

Read This and Shudder

By THOMAS L. STOKES

WASHINGTON — Now that Congress is at the point of legalizing our spies and setting up a radar system around the country like an electric chastity belt and laying out a 3,000-mile range for testing guided missiles—with all that we ought to feel most secure.

With the atom bomb, too. And with Gen. Harry Vaughan safe in the White House despite Drew Pearson. And with General Ike Eisenhower back in the Pentagon, to which sprawling building incidentally, the mussy and old-fashioned state department has become figuratively a mere appendage, somewhat like the modern college of liberal arts, so-called, that is attached to a football stadium.

We ought to be very set-up about it all.

There are other protections, too, such as the wall of steel we are going to build across Western Europe with guns from our plentiful store, and the North Atlantic Alliance to make it certain.

Then there's our big, fat purse which seems to have no bottom with which we can encourage the friendship of our poorer neighbors across the ocean.

We ought to be very happy and content. For happiness can be bought, can't it?

Yet, with it all, we are perhaps the unhappiest, most discontented, most jittery and most frightened nation on earth today. At least that's the impression you get in this city, which is the touchy nerve center of it all.

Everything seems unreal here these days and completely out of focus. The very atmosphere over our heads in a-buzz every so often with the new fast planes that streak low above government buildings to reinforce the alarms cried out by our generals and admirals who seem to have us well in hand.

If you don't keep hold of yourself you are likely to see hobgoblins chasing about in broad daylight—without benefit of I. W. Harper. It would be very discouraging if you thought the people out in the country were becoming infected with the madness, too, and it is hoped this is not true.

* * *

Makes A Long Shadow.

WHEN we get all dressed up in our armor we cast an ominous shadow that scares us.

It was said that we are perhaps the most jittery and frightened nation on earth. Maybe that should be qualified. There's another which, judging from its strange actions, seems about as frightened. That, of course, is Russia.

It acts like a fellow in a conniption fit, mumbling a meaningless jargon reminiscent of medieval times such as might come from a mind gone astray from trying to figure how many capitalists could dance on a bayonet point. Fantastic are the mental contortions to justify its own actions and misinterpret those of others.

Russia strikes out against writers and painters and musicians and scientists, and its satellites strike out at religion and discover mysterious plots within their borders, exhibiting the uneasy state to which frightened dictators finally come.

Out of all of that, with some help from us on this side of the world, there is developing a middle age religious war in the 20th century.

It's bad to have two of us at large in the world today, particularly since, between us, we control the world.

It must look to anybody watching it even from afar, say in Russia, that we are about to go to war next week, when we know our people have no such thought. At least, it gives the Kremlin constant topics for its purposes.

Truman Tones Down Praise of Draper

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — President Truman staged a brief personal sitdown strike the other day against his aides' habit of writing flowery letters to resigning members of the administration. Even when resignations have been forced, White House secretaries have written fulsome letters of praise to be signed by Truman.

But when Undersecretary of the Army William Draper resigned the other day, Truman looked at the letter praising him and refused to sign.

In the end he demanded that the letter be rewritten, with at least some of the praise omitted.

Inside fact is that the President had informed several senators that he had no objection to their staging a full-dress probe of Draper and his conduct of the American military government in Germany—if a preliminary investigation by the old Ferguson committee seemed to warrant it

Draper's Wall Street firm, Dillon, Read and Co., in which Secretary Forrestal was also a partner, had extremely close ties with Germany before the war and poured millions into the German cartels which later munitioned Hitler's army.

Since the war both Draper and Forrestal have been under fire for permitting German cartels to be built up again in such a way that history might repeat.

Latest revelation about Undersecretary of the Army Draper is that in 1940 when he was in a colonel's uniform in Washington, his business partner in Berlin was Alexander Kreuter, an officer in Hitler's elite guard. At that time—after the European war had actually started, and when the United States was rushing to train a new army—Colonel Draper and Kreuter cut across a large real-estate deal in Berlin, in which Draper had a 14 per cent interest. After the war, Draper brought SS officer Kreuter into the American military government.

Note—Through frowning on Draper, Mr. Truman appears to condone the same viewpoint in Draper's partner, Secretary Forrestal.

Senator In Argentina.

SENATOR Dennis Chavez of New Mexico probably doesn't realize it, but indirectly he helped Gen. Harry Vaughan's friend, dictator Peron, get rid of his high-handed economic dictator Miguel Miranda, author of various decrees against American trade.

What happened was that when Senator Chavez was in Argentina, a luncheon in his honor was aranged by U. S. Ambassador James Bruce, together with H. A. Metzger of Standard Oil of New Jersey, and A. S. Millard of the Case Tractor company.

Miranda was the chief Argentine guest, and proceeded to spout off in blunt and amazing language against his friend, dictator Peron.

For more than an hour Miranda talked. And after the lunch was over, astute Ambassador Bruce took pains to see that the conversation was repeated to one of Peron's most intimate friends. Within a few hours Peron had heard it himself.

Though Peron was boiling mad, he still didn't quite have the courage to fire his economic czar. Simultaneously, however, Miranda made another faux pas.

* * *

Blonde Lady's Ire.

HE HAD set up a system whereby the Argentine wool producers came into his office and ponied-up 3 per cent of the value of their crop. He gave them no receipt, and they were never sure what happened to their cash.

When they protested, Miranda informed one of the wool men that he could give no receipt because the cash went to Evita—famous, blonde movie-actress wife of the dictator.

One of the wool men promptly took this back to Senora Peron and she in turn hit the ceiling.

Not only did Evita demand that Miranda be fired, but she told Peron that she would go off to Biarritz if Miranda remained in office another day. She could not, she said, have such reflections made against her personal integrity.

Even then, however, Peron delayed firing Miranda. Then, next day when he went home for lunch the gorgeous Evita was missing. Temporarily, she had walked out.

After lunch therefore Peron called in his army leaders, suggested that they officially ask him to fire Miranda. With this excuse to back him up, Peron—apparently not a fierce dictator where strong-man Miranda was concerned—finally called in his economic czar and told him that the army demanded his scalp.

He did not of course tell him that it was really Evita and a luncheon conversation in honor of Senator Chavez that had caused his downfall.

Note—With Miranda out of the picture Argentine economic relations with the United States are expected to improve.

Miracle of Texas City

By INEZ ROBB

TEXAS CITY, Texas — The first time I saw Texas City, I wouldn't have given a mill on the dollar for the whole works, lock, stock and barrel.

As I drove into the shattered city, shortly after midnight on April 17, 1947, one square mile of its dock-front was burning with the glare and ferocity of a gasoline torch.

Its main street presented an fantastic sight. From building line to building line, the street was literally carpeted in shattered glass. In the angry glow of the fire, small homes along the water front were smashed like match boxes.

Its main street presented a building in town, had not one pane of glass. Its venetian blinds hung drunkenly. Plaster on walls and ceiling was cracked. The auditorium was roped off, lest the big chandeliers, hanging by threads, fall and injure still other persons.

The gymnasium of the high school was already an appalling morgue. Eventually it received 522 bodies of the identified and unidentified dead, killed when the French freighter Grand Camp, loaded with 2500 tons of ammonium nitrate, exploded at its dock at 9:13 a. m. April 16, 1947.

It was the saddest town I have ever seen. Not even in war zones had I seen worse destruction. And when, a few minutes after 1 a. m., the second nitrate-laden freighter, the High Flyer, blew itself, the rest of Texas City and me sky high, I wouldn't have taken Texas City as a precious gift.

* * *

Has Risen From Ruins.

BUT TODAY, the miracle of Texas City is real and tangible. The resurgence of this small port city is something in which the whole nation can take pride.

You can't keep a good town down. Today, Texas City is a boom town.

Except in the dock area, its physical scars are gone. And even along the dock, a minor miracle has taken place.

This square mile of dock-front, once a jumble of concrete and twisted steel, has been almost completely cleared. Even six months after the twin explosions, when I last visited Texas City, I thought it would be impossible ever to clear the dock front.

When Texas City was blown apart in 1947 it had approximately 20,000 citizens. Today, there are more than 27,000 persons living here. One new housing development, just completed, contains more than 600 dwelling units.

A fire siren or a tire blowout is still enough to set the stoutest hearts in Texas City palpitating. This sub-conscious reaction to the dread tragedy that wounded thousands, killed hundreds and caused property damage of $50,000,000 is readily admitted by any resident.

But it has driven no more than a handful of residents from Texas City. The Monsanto chemical plant, where scores were killed and many more injured, lost only two or three employes through fear of another disaster.

Far from deserting their city, on the rim of which are some of the largest oil and chemical plants in the country, the townspeople have patched up their homes and glued together the business district.

Only one main street building, damaged by the blasts, is still uncompleted. That is the Showboat, a movie theater. It has been entirely rebuilt and will have a grand opening within a few weeks.

Even though the blast and subsequent fire destroyed all dry cargo facilities, the port of Texas City is still eleventh in size in the nation. The docks have been sufficiently repaired to handle the tremendous tonnage of oil, gasoline and chemicals manufactured here.

Dry cargo facilities will be rebuilt, and citizens expect the port to boom as soon as the dock area is fully cleared.

Another Hidden Tax.

In spite of repeated explanations and proof to the contrary, millions of Americans faithfully believe that the regular deductions from their earnings, in the name of Social Security, represents money that is put aside and placed in trust for them, to be repaid in their old age in the form of insurance.

That is not so. The money is withheld from their pay all right, but it is not cached away for the rainy day of old age. It is spent by the government and only government obligations remain where this money once was. Social security, in this light, is but another form of taxation, a hidden, but nevertheless real, tax.

This fact should be kept in mind in any consideration of the Truman administration's latest proposal to broaden Social Security and to increase the amount of money withheld from workers' wages and salaries.—Columbus Dispatch.

How It Started

—By JEAN NEWTON

The Word "Amulet."

By an "amulet" is meant an object worn as a good-luck charm. This may be a gem—and "lucky stones" are perhaps most popular or any ornament: even scrolls have been worn as amulets.

Amulets are almost as old as the hills. They have been worn as charms against evil, as protection against witchcraft or disease; they have been inscribed with mystic characters, or taken the cruder form of primitive charms.

Their history spans the arc from the most backward peoples, some of whom practice their taboos to this day in the world's hinterlands to the most civilized. At some time or other, all races seem to have attributed magical powers to special stones.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

There are about 250,000 churches in the United States claiming close to half the country's population as members.

Weeds Can Have Value

By CALVIN A. BYERS

JOSEPH COCANNOUR, whose book "Trampling Out the Vintage" was reviewed in this column some time ago, has another book in process of being completed. This one is about "Weeds —Guardians of the Soil."

"Beneath our feet," Cocannour writes in the current issue of The Land, "is a vast nature-world—the soil-world," complex beyond our imagination, the most intricate laboratory in our known universe. As goes the soil-world, so goes man; so goes civilization.

"A well-balanced soil-world spells human progress, for harmony rules there and harmony does not bread discord; it spells health individually and nationally. Adversely, a soil-world out of balance can produce but one ultimate harvest; discontent, apathy, poverty, deficiency diseases."

Weeds, according to Cocannour, are a vital link in Nature's fertility chain—the guardians of the land, as vital to soil balance as air and water. Weeds will send roots deep into the subsoil and bring up elements that revert to the topsoil when the weeds are disked down as green manure. Also they furnish moisture by capillarity—water moves up to the crop-roots along the outside of weed roots. The South-sea Islanders and the Chinese use certain weeds as "mother plants," permitting them to grow among the vegetables.

Weed control calls for thoughtful planning. Often the weed crop must be thinned to prevent crowding and allow mature roots to reach into the subsoil. Weed-roots are beneficial to crop-roots, when there is no crowding.

During the late war in Europe, pigweed hay, when properly cured and fed to dairy cattle, gave better returns than clover or alfalfa. Pigweed is native to America. Bindweed hay makes superb dairy feed—and cured nettles when fed to hens will boost egg production.

"It is high time," says this man, "that farmers become weed-conscious in the right direction. We ought to make use of our weeds as companion crops and forage—or rotate them as a part of our soil building and maintenance. Weed-control can result in soil improvement — weed eradication — well thousands of acres of food-producing land in United States speak for themselves. To bring back that land to fertility may call for sweat and tears."

KATHERINE ABERLE GUILD HEARS MISS BERTHA RUESS

Horoscope

For Wednesday, March 2
By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

A flash of genius, a sudden inspiration, an intuition or hunch may have power to make readjustments and give stabilizing force to menaced, upset and critical situations that have been threatening the most cherished objectives in both business and private affairs. An innovation, or a new discovery, with a fresh technique for putting over surprising openings is forecast.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is, are encouraged to cultivate their inner urges, in which fresh techniques, a flash of genius, fancy, imaginations and intuition may safely be brought to bear on critical situations, in which fruitful and lucrative elements may seem to be baffling and unrealistic. While a purely emotional approach may present some hazards, an astute and novel manipulation of intriguing or subtle circumstances could bring about certain highly creative and inventive developments. The financial, domestic and romantic values seem in the balance, but with much encouragement for forging ahead. Strange impressions should be considered prudently.

A child born on this day may have many strange talents and mental urges or emotional lrives, leading to unusual success.
